REDFERN'S NEW DESIGNS.

[Special Correspondence.]
NEW YORK, May 27, 1891.—The rose scented warmth of the sweetest month in all the year is now so near at hand, that the world of women will soon be luxuriating in its charming summer plumage, and the eyes of the beholders will be gladdened by all those delightful fripperies of lawn and lace and floating ribbons and flower laden chapeaux, and those bright yet delicate tints which are only in harmony with cloudless skies and brilliant sunshine. Already many Newport cottages are open and the seaside and mountain resorts are each vying with its neighbor in sounding the loud trumpet, and spied like, inviting the summer boarders to step into its parlor and take possession of its long piazzas while the aforesaid boarder, wherever it is of the feminine gender, is busy putting the last touches to the dainty gowns and chiffons which she fondly hopes will enrapture every member of the opposite sex, and set wild with envy all her sister women who behold them. Among these summer costumes will probably be a black silk grenadine made up over a changeable glace lining, one or two of the soft printed chailies, an embroidered bustle, some chambrays and Scotch gingham, a lovely mousseline de L'Inde in jardiniere effects, and perhaps one of the resurrected French organdies which delighted the girls before the war. But with all these and half a score more, Madame's wardrobe will not be complete unless she possesses one of Redfern's new foulard gowns, like the accompanying sketch.

It is of black foulard, figured all over with baskets and little nosegays in natural colors. Across the front is a narrow pleating and the skirt is somewhat draped on the right hip. The bodice has a girde of light stem green velvet fastened with an enameled clasp and a rosette of the same velvet catches the draped folds on the chest. The sleeves have a full puff to the elbows and two ruffles below on the tight cuff. The plumed hat is of black lace straw, with spray of field flowers. Instead of sailor hats, many girls who mean to travel are investing in the small boat shaped hats with indented crowns. They will be worn very much this year and they certainly suit most people in a wonderful way. This sketch illustrates one of Red-fern's cricket gowns, very like the models which took so well last year. It is of white flannel with clustered stripes of white and dark blue. A narrow row of dark blue braid heads the hem. The blouse waist of dotted flannel has sailor collar, cuffs and belt of dark blue striped with white.

"That tired feeling" is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives a feeling of buoyancy and strength to the system.

The Dakota Hot Springs.
The improvements that have taken place at the Dakota Hot Springs during the past year make it now one of the most popular, attractive and desirable resorts of the country. In addition to the benefits to be derived from the use of the water, the superior climate and beautiful natural surroundings render it an especially attractive resort, while the curative properties of the water makes the Springs a rival of the famous Hot Springs of Arkansas. Ample hotel accommodations are provided at reasonable rates, and the journey to and from can now be quickly and comfortably made via the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad, the only all rail line to the Hot Springs. Excursion tickets are sold at reduced rates. Full information can be obtained on application to

The Nickel in the Slot.
To buy the favor of the world,
Its notice and its thought,
Be swift of foot and swiftly put
A nickel in the slot.
Fate's tuffl' fruit lies concealed
'Neath iron locks hard wrought,
And you must stop and gently drop
A nickel in the slot.
To gain the chewing gum of fame
Don't idly wait around
For the thing to start and fall apart,
And spill it on the ground.
For the machine is stout and strong,
Of toughest iron wrought,
March up and stop and gently drop
A nickel in the slot.
The sweet perfume of love
Lurks in the big machine,
But its fragrant flavor and sunny savor
Are firmly locked, I ween,
So do not stand and vainly sigh,
Firm rooted to the spot;
Be swift of foot and gently put
A nickel in the slot.
The world is careful of its goods,
And under lock and key
It keeps them tight concealed from sight,
Away from you and me,
But there's a way to get them all,
The whole strong guarded lot,
If we just stop and gently drop
A nickel in the slot.
—S. W. Foss in Yankee Blade.

The Hot Springs of Dakota.
These springs are rapidly becoming famous on account of the wonderful curative properties of the waters, and the many marvelous cures which have been effected by the thermal baths.

The town and springs are delightfully situated in a picturesque valley in the Black Hills country, abounding in beautiful scenic effects, and at an altitude of 3,400 feet above the sea level; thus insuring a pure atmosphere and exhilarating climate, absolutely free from malaria.

Under the enterprising and progressive management of the Hot Springs company many desirable improvements have been made; among the number the erection of a commodious bath house fitted up with all modern conveniences for the comfort of guests. New hotels have been built and comfortably furnished throughout, conducted in first-class style and at reasonable rates. Those who prefer stopping at a private house will find many desirable boarding places where good accommodations are furnished at moderate prices.

The superior daily service now afforded by the Burlington Route to Hot Springs, with through sleeping car accommodations from Omaha, Lincoln, Aurora and Grand Island, makes the trip an easy and enjoyable one; and for the benefit of all who desire to test the efficacy of the waters, round trip tickets at reduced rates, good for ninety days are now on sale at all offices of the Burlington Route.

For pamphlet, descriptive of the springs, and full information as to rates, time, etc., apply to any agent of the company, or to

A Red Letter Day.
February 6th was a red letter day for Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa. They made their first shipment of goods to the Hawaiian Islands on that day. It consisted of 100 cases containing over four hundred dozen of their medicines, to the leading wholesale drug house in Honolulu. A large share of this shipment consisted of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, so much esteemed wherever it is known for its cures of colds and as a preventive and cure for croup. Chamberlain & Co., have contracted for advertising in all the leading newspapers in the Hawaiian Islands, and expect to make their remedies as popular there as they are in any part of the United States. For sale by druggists.

Not a Citizen of Lincoln can afford to miss the comfort and safety offered him by the North Western Line (F. E. & M. V. RR.) in his travels to and from Chicago and all eastern points. It is the direct line to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Olympia, Seattle, Tacoma, and all other Minnesota, Washington and Montana points. All passengers for these points go through without depot transfer. Patronize the North Western and avoid omnibus transfers. It is the only all rail line to that Sanatorium of the world, the Hot Springs of South Dakota and the direct line to Rapid City, Deadwood and Black Hills points. To all those contemplating a trip the coming season it offers a direct line and service, to all the resorts of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Michigan. The finest fishing grounds in the world are reached by this line. For rates and information, call at 1133 O street,

Each Season

Has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity, by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the system readily adapts itself to changed conditions. Composed of the best alteratives and tonics, and being highly concentrated, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the most effective and economical of all blood medicines.
"For some years, at the return of spring, I had serious trouble with my kidneys. I was unable to sleep nights, and suffered greatly with pains in the small of my back. I was also afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. These symptoms were much worse last spring, especially the trouble with my back. A friend persuaded me to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I began taking it, and my troubles all disappeared."
